The GVAA President's Message

GVAA artists submitted 46 pieces on Friday, July 1st, for our show at the Goleta Valley Library (GVL). Juror Garrett Speirs chose 29 and awarded 6 Juror's choice ribbons. Congratulations to our award winners: Anne Anderson, Mogens Hjorting, Holly Hungett, Edward Rodgers, Terre Martin Sanitate, and Lynn Weber.

Three new members were juried in by Garrett. Welcome to Manrita Cole, Donna Greene and Edward Rodgers (also an award winner!). Each new member had a piece accepted in the show, making a total of 32. So far this year, we have welcomed 19 new members!

You'll want to be at the show take down Wednesday, July 27th, 5:15 – 7 P.M. when Garrett offers his critique. If you cannot be there, please arrange for someone to pick up your piece as the library cannot store it.

Our next Ingathering is Friday, September 2nd 10:30-12:30 P.M. at the GVL. Libby Smith, landscape painter and Adult Ed teacher is our juror. Please make sure your work is properly matted, framed and wired. You may submit up to two pieces at $10 per piece.

For summer fun, we held our GVAA annual picnic. on Saturday, July 16th at Stow Grove Park, Area 3 from 11 – 2 p.m. Judi Doernberg led us in a new art project. Many thanks for a memorable event to Pat Heller, our Special Events Coordinator, and the volunteers who arrived early to set up: Heidi Bratt, Pat Heller, Merith Cosden, Elizabeth Flanagan and Barbara Cronin Hershberg. Thanks also to Sun Young Moon who stayed late with us to help clean up. Photos and comments are on page 3.

Pat is also busy organizing GVAA's Summer Outdoor Art Show and Sale. This year, it will be held on Saturday, August 13th at the Camino Real Marketplace. If you are interested in being a participating artist, contact Pat at patheller@cox.net.

This month's featured artist is GVAA's Marie Gionet Arnold. Marie has been a dedicated GVAA member and volunteer having served as GVAA's Vice President, President and Treasurer for many years. She also helped facilitate GVAA's outdoor shows at La Cumbre Plaza last year. Marie is a founding member of La Cumbre Center for the Creative Arts (LCCCA) where her beautiful abstract art is available at the Fine Line Gallery.

As always, please keep well and stay safe.

Membership Messages

Letter from Jan Smith,
GVAA Director of Membership

At the Goleta Valley Library June Exhibit we gained three new members: Mantrita Cole, Donna Greene and Edward Rogers. "Welcome!" to our three new members!

The People's Choice Awards have returned with our GVAA art shows at the Goleta Library! A small voters box is on the wall where you, or whomever views the show in person can vote for a favorite piece and artist. People's Choice Award winners are announced during the end-of-show critiques, then included in the next month's newsletter.

Mark your calendar! A Painting Workshop on September 30th, 1 - 5 P.M., with Christina Ramos, our Golden Paint representative, will feature fundamental painting techniques to create realistic images. Christina will provide all the paint and reference materials. Attendees will only need to bring a canvas (11 X 14") and a table top or standing easel. The fee is $65 and it will be held at Rancho Santa Barbara. An email to sign up will be sent to all members.

Best Regards,

Jan Smith,

Dear Mr. Axelrod,
On behalf of the artists of
Goleta Valley Art Association (GVAA)
I am happy to enclose a donation of $125.00.
Our May show at the Goleta
Valley Library (GVL) was entitled
"Art For Peace" in honor of Ukraine. The Board voted to donate a percentage of proceeds from that show to Direct Relief toward your efforts in Ukraine.
Thank you for all the work you are doing in the world.
In Gratitude,
Elizabeth Flanagan
President, GVAA

Direct Relief Donation

I was most pleased to send a check for $125 to Direct Relief on behalf of GVAA Artists. Here is a copy of the note I sent to Mr. Axelrod, Associate Director, Partnerships and Philanthropy. I used a card with beautiful art on it from GVAA artist Heidi Bratt. The art piece is called "Grace" which seemed appropriate. The card says:

"On behalf of the artists of Goleta Valley Art Association (GVAA), I am happy to enclose a donation of $125.00.

Our May show at the Goleta Valley Library (GVL) was entitled "Art for Peace" in honor of Ukraine. The Board voted to donate a percentage of proceeds from that show to Direct Relief toward your efforts in Ukraine. Thank you for all you are doing in the world."

Art Biz Workshop with Carissa Luminess

Seventeen GVAAG artists attended the Art Biz Workshop given by Carissa Luminess (Friday, June 17th). The 2 hour Zoom workshop covered such important topics as pricing, showing, and advertising our work.

From a lengthy career as a successful artist, Carissa candidly answered our many questions in depth. She's "been there—done that", and can address every aspect of an art business.

We were provided with an informative "handout" which included an extensive list of websites for companies that support artists in showcasing and selling their works. Likewise, the process of how to license our images to provide ourselves with passive income was explained in detail.

The workshop was recorded and each attendee received a video of the session so we can review at our leisure, as often as we wish. All this for $35! We each came away with a wealth of new information.

JUNE People's Choice Winners GOLETA VALLEY LIBRARY

Congratulations to The People's Choice Winners
from our June show at Goleta Valley Library:

Measuring Success

by Kallie Branciforte

In a world of social media, it can be easy to get caught up in what other people are doing and how they are doing it. It's easy to find yourself copying others trying to recreate their success for yourself.

While you certainly can draw inspiration from others, the most successful people stay in their own lane. They measure their success against themselves, not others.

A Perfect Picnic

It was a beautiful Saturday (July 16th), when GVAA artists and family members gathered at Stow Grove Park for the annual picnic. We were assigned Area 3 instead of Area 2 this year, and what a gift that turned out to be. An enormous tree that shaded our usual Area 2 tables had come down and there was no more protection from the sun.

Area 3, it turns out, is covered by a pergola that gave us plenty of shade

Patterns made by the pergola on those enjoying lunch.

Judi Doernberg explaining our "Tiny Book" art project.

and just enough sun to create a work of art all its own.

Everyone brought a lovely dish to share; it made a feast! Lots of fruits and salads, creative dishes and some amazing desserts were enjoyed while we all chatted and got caught up on our activities of the last year.

Following lunch, our fabulous Judi Doernberg once again had us learn a new skill: making teeny-tiny fold out books! The book covers are 2-inch square panels that were painted with water-soluble oil pastels (yes, they are a thing), then covered with gel medium to seal in the painting.

Next we cut and folded paper in two different ways to create two of the most adorable little books that can be used as tiny travel journals, greeting cards or to record any treasured information.

Special thanks to Elizabeth Flanagan, Merith Cosden, Barbara Cronin Hershberg, Sun Young Moon, Judi Doernberg and Heidi Bratt for their part in setting up and cleaning up, and to anyone else who gave a hand that I may have missed. It took a village, and we have the best village imaginable!

Be Seen!

Your GVAA Newsletter Editor is on the lookout for your news. However, she is deluged with all manner of emails every day.

Please note that when I open an emailed GVAA newsletter submission, I respond to it right away to acknowledge its receipt to the sender. This month, I was away and out of Internet range June 26 – July 16. So, sorry for late responses.

If you send me an email, expect a quick response, or please resend it, or text or call me to bring it to my attention. This is especially important on the 10th of the month when the biggest flurry of email submissions usually comes in. If you can, please send your submission earlier in the month.

Please put "GVAA News" as part of the Subject Line. Thanks so much for your patience and perseverance!

Featured GVAA Member

Marie Gionet Arnold

I was already in my sixties when I finally discovered art as a way of expressing myself. As I was approaching retirement, a friend invited me to join her in a collage class at SBCC Adult Ed. I took collage classes for about five years.

Following my interest in the art world, I then started painting acrylic. I found that the medium gave me the freedom to explore a world of colors and emotions, which had not been present in my collage work.

Art has been a meditative and transformative experience. Using bold colors comes naturally as I let the intuitive side of my personality guide me through the process of creating. My path to meaning and purpose is to allow the creative spirit to be my guiding light.

The discovery of something new about myself comes through abstract art as I allow life energy to flow more fluidly. Through my work I hope to evoke feelings of “inter-connectiveness”.

I was admitted into the Goleta Valley Art Association and into the Santa Barbara Art Association in 2012. In 2013 I was invited to join the Board of GVAA as Vice-President, then served as President for one year, followed by four years as Treasurer. My experience working with the Board has helped me develop my leadership skills.

I am so grateful for this organization. I felt encouraged and supported through many trials and errors. In early 2012, I was also one of the earliest members to join the Abstract Collective.

In 2019, I became one of the founding members of La Cumbre Center for Creative Arts and now have a working studio in the Fine Line Gallery.

Thank you GVAA, for being such a great presence in my life.

GVAA Artists at I Madonnari

Following in the footsteps of 16th Century Italian Madonnara (street painters), artists Cheryl Guthrie and Terri Taber teamed up over Memorial Day weekend for the annual Santa Barbara I Madonnari Festival held at SB Mission. For over 20 years, they have created vibrant and colorful, chalk art imagery on the sunbaked pavement at the Mission.

Cheryl and Terri continue to be fueled by the creativity and talent of their fellow Madonnara. Their 12 ft x 8 ft rendition of the four bronze horses once atop San Marco Basilica in Venice, symbolizes beauty, strength, and triumph.

I Madonnari is the brainchild of recently retired I Madonnari Executive Director, Kathy Koury. After witnessing a street painting competition in Italy, she created the fundraising concept of sponsored street painting squares to Santa Barbara in 1987. In doing so, Santa Barbara became the first city to host this popular festival in the Western Hemisphere. The festival benefits the Children's Creative Project which brings arts education programs to over 50,000 local children.

For the past 13 years, Cheryl and Terri have been sponsored through the generosity of Bourke Wealth Management not only with their financial contribution to the festival but with their great encouragement and enthusiasm.

Shows, Sales & Recognition continued

"At The Edge: Coal Oil Point, > Devereux Lagoon" 4" x 4" acrylic on panel by Holly Hungett

"At the Edge..." was sold..through the SCAPE benefit show for Mission Trails. The virtual show runs through the end of July.

Holly says: I love how the Devereux Lagoon changes through the year. At times only a trickle of water runs through this area, other times it's filled and brimming with birds and wildlife.

< "Angel Gabriella I" Mixed media on paper, 10 x 7.5" by Elizabeth U. Flanagan

Elizabeth U. Flanagan's piece "Vincent II" was juried into GVAA's July show at the Goleta Valley Library, 500 North Fairview. The show will be up through Wednesday, July 27th when Juror, Garrett Speirs will critique the show from 5:15 - 7 P.M. The public is invited to attend the critique.

Elizabeth also had one piece: "Angel Gabriella I" juried into SBAA's July show at the Faulkner Gallery, Santa Barbara Public Library, 40 E. Anapamu. The show will be up until July 30th.

"Bars", 8 x 10" acrylic on panel > by Lynn Dow

Lynn Dow wrote: I just did this acrylic painting, "Bars", using a new tool, a Spatcher, which is a silicon paint applicator. This one is 2 inches wide. It applies the paint more thickly and can also be used to scrape and reapply paint, so I find it fun to use.

When I have painter's block, it helps to get a new color of paint or buy a different tool or brush. This painting is 8" by 10" but I hope to do larger ones.

Discovering Pastels

Barbara Eberhart is offering an online 3-week art class "Discovering Pastels". Three Friday mornings beginning July 29, August 5, and August 12. Especially perfect for beginners who want to feel comfortable with this new medium, or returning students who want to brush up on their skills. Sign up through Artists Council:
