

President's Message

GVAA's Social Secretary, Jan Smith, commented the other day that before she was on the board she had no idea how much the GVAA Board did for our members. A collegial and spirited group, we work hard and laugh a lot at our board meetings. Here are some things we covered at our last meeting.

Library Gallery Schedule: We have submitted our request for use of the Goleta Library gallery space. We requested all 12 months but prioritized our requests knowing that it's unlikely we will get every month we ask for. We hope to work with the Library to extend as many shows as possible to a full four-week show.

Artist Tour: This year's Artist Tour was very successful, with most artists making sales. Visitors commented that they loved seeing a variety of media at each house and that they missed the show last year. Postcards were sent to the 600+ addresses on our mailing list and the exhibiting artists did a stellar job advertising in their neighborhoods and among friends. Thanks so much to Heidi Bratt for organizing.

June Art Supply Sale: Mary Peeters continues to organize the semi-annual art supply sale. Many donations and many patrons led to one of our most successful sales. Thank you, Mary and your volunteers.

Summer Potluck Picnic, July 11: Jan has planned a fun-filled day for us at Stow Grove. Stay tuned for an announcement about the special art activity. See you there.

Stow House Art Festival, Sept. 12: Vice-President Elizabeth Flanagan has hit the ground running in preparation for Stow House. We've got the Burger Bus on tap and some of our favorite bands to add spice to what is always a delightful day. Elizabeth appreciates all those who have signed up to help and is always looking for more volunteers.

GVAA Survey: We began an initial review of the results of our GVAA survey. With over 90 responses from 200 members, we are thankful to you all for taking the time to fill it out so thoughtfully. In this first look, we noted results that confirmed what we knew, those that surprised us, and some initial thoughts about next steps. Some data of interest:

75% of respondents participated in at least one Goleta Library show a year. Those who did not, mentioned personal medical issues, no longer doing art, focusing on other art associations and venues, and that it was too far to travel to Goleta.

44% of respondents felt we should allow jurors to select more than one artwork per artist, while 36% said no. 20% didn't know.

52% said that artists' contact information should be on the art labels rather than the president's. 25% said no and 23% didn't know.

There was lots of interest in the variety of ways GVAA could support members in developing their art. Field trips, workshops, bi-monthly art conversations and critique groups were popular.

The newsletter received a resounding vote of approval with 90% of respondents reading it "always" and commenting on how well done it is. Congrats, Cheryl!

Reviewing the survey and making recommendations to the membership will be an on-going project. Stay tuned for more.

Sincerely,
Anne Anderson

SAVE THE DATE

GVAA Stow House Art Festival Saturday, September 12, 2015

We are in the throes of planning for our 11th annual Stow House Art Festival!!! This year, we will be back to the previous format - GVAA will have Stow House to ourselves for the Festival.

Would you like your artwork to be considered as our advertising image for posters and postcards? If so, please email a jpeg image ASAP to euflanagan@gmail.com. The deadline for accepting images will be Monday, July 6.

To date, a number of artists have already said they will be participating in the Festival. Several others have indicated interest. Will you be there with us? Start thinking of work you would like to show. Application forms will be available in July for panels and booths, as well as a wall for those who enter one or two pieces.

We have some Festival Sponsors at this point and would welcome others to support our costs. You can help by inviting businesses you frequent, your family businesses and entrepreneur friends to participate this year. Their contribution will be recognized publicly. Make checks out to GVAA and send to PO Box 435, Goleta, CA 93116.

There are also many opportunities to volunteer in planning and organizing as well as on the day itself. Please email Elizabeth Flanagan at euflanagan@gmail.com for more information, or if you can help out in some way.

Looking forward to a day of fun and celebrating ourselves as artists!

Judy Nienow's JUROR'S REMARKS: I loved having the opportunity to see so much stellar art-work in one place and I look forward to giving feedback at the critique. I want to thank the GVAA members who submitted despite the increased fee and so soon after the Art Tour. Because I felt there were more award-qualifying pieces than four ribbons can cover, I will supply a few home-made ribbons of merit additionally at the critique. Probably some cookies, too. I love the range of work GVAA consistently supplies, from the quiet dignity of simple pieces to confident strong works of astonishing mastery. Really, really inspiring.

GALLERY ART TALK. In celebration of the unexpected six-week extension of their "Wet World" exhibition of 27 rainscapes at the Architectural Foundation's downtown Santa Barbara gallery, Judy and Warner Nienow will give an informal "Art Talk" on Saturday, June 27, 1-3p. Under the banner theme of "Pitfalls and Benefits," the Nienows will cover issues surrounding some or all of the following: taking on rain scenes as an extended topic (in a drought); painting from photographs; night-painting en plein air; having a partner who is also an artist for more than four decades; how to keep painting when you are going blind (Judy); how to paint with five indoor cats underfoot; how to store 40 years of paintings; and anything politely inquired during a Q and A. Because the gallery is not regularly open on weekends, the Nienows hope GVAA members will use this chance to come see their interesting show before it closes on July 11. Possibly they will only talk for an hour, then let visitors browse artwork and chat. If at least 8 people email Judy (at scarydollface@gmail.com) with intent to attend, she will prepare and furnish fresh baked goods for the talk. The Architectural Foundation Gallery is located at 229 E. Victoria St. at the corner of Garden and Victoria, with on-street parking. Should be fun.

The Los Padres Watercolor Society annual show in the Faulkner Gallery will be for the month of July this year. The ingathering will take place on Tuesday, June 30 from 10a - 12:30p. You may enter two pieces ($10 for one, $15 for two) but if there is a large volume, you will be called to pick up what they don't have room to hang.

Whistle Stop Art Studios at 220 W. Canon Perdido, Suite D, will be offering summer classes Fridays and Saturdays, 10a to 1p in transparent and opaque watercolor techniques, understanding color and developing strong compositions. Classes start July 10. Email Ruth@ruthellenhoag.com or call 689-0858 for more information.

Morro Bay Art Association extends an invitation to all GVAA artists to participate in their annual Open Juried Show, Paint San Luis Obispo County 2015, held August 13 - October 5. Click HERE for details on how to participate.
